Around the Police Station

Haole, a Hawaiian, carried matters a little too far the other day when he attempted to arrest a Chinaman without having the necessary authority. Haole had a police badge—at any rate, he had one of his own manufacture. It was a crude affair, fashioned out of tin, but Haole didn't mind little things like that. Even if his badge was not quite the real thing it was sufficient to secure him free rides on the street cars and to give him a certain amount of standing among his friends of Palama. Of course, Haole had a number on his badge. It was about the best number he could think of, for it fitted his case perfectly. This inscription was written on the tin badge, "Special 23." He had some fun as a policeman for a while. He was under no political obligations, he was his own chief, he worked when he wanted to and when he didn't fancy the strenuous life he loafed. But all these good things, these "cinches," must come to an end. For Haole, the self-appointed bluecoat, was discovered in the act. Judge Andrade thought that it would be wise to have Haole come through with about $25 and costs of court for the fun he had been having.

Noah's Case Today.
David Noah, the man who is charged with having attempted to "work the planters" by means of fake punch marks on wage tickets, will have his trial continued in the police court this morning. The case came on for trial yesterday, but exceptions were taken to a part of the evidence of R. D. Mead, and Judge Andrade continued the case until today. A. M. Brown is prosecuting Noah, while Charles Chillingworth is conducting the defense. Noah is charged with having obtained money from the Oahu Sugar Company by imitating the punch marks on the wage ticket.

TRIP TO MAUI IS ATTRACTING TOURISTS

There was no meeting of the Promotion Committee yesterday, but Secretary Wood's weekly letter was sent out as usual. It reads as follows:
Chairman and Members of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee.
Gentlemen: Our efforts to turn travel to Maui have met with such success that I have written to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company suggesting that they make arrangements to issue special coupon tickets including Iao Valley and Haleakala as well as Kilauea with an itinerary about as follows:
Leave Honolulu by steamer, Friday 6 p. m., arrive Kahului 8 a. m. Saturday, take 7.20 train to Paia, back to Makawao, saddle horses to Haleakala, reaching summit in time for sunset, spend night in stone Rest House, watch sunrise on Haleakala, then by horse and carriage to Paia where Sunday may be spent quietly or trip continued to Wailelu. Monday devote to Iao Valley; Tuesday across island to McGregor's Landing or Lahaina, preferably the latter point where the Mauna Kea may be taken for Hilo and the regular Volcano trip. The total time consumed covering the two islands in this way would be eight days, just such a trip as Mr. John Burroughs recently took and of which he speaks so enthusiastically. The cost should not prove excessive and if all the details are carefully arranged, cannot but prove a very attractive outing.
At but slight additional expense this trip can be extended to include a longer stay at Hilo which we are always anxious to bring about as well as a carriage drive through the Kona.

With the establishment of the Kauai Garage Company, of which the Hon. J. H. Coney is manager, the trip to Kauai should become a popular outing, and we hope soon to be able to arrange for a coupon trip to the Garden Island, covering a week or ten days, and including the principal points of interest.
The Islands have recently had as a visitor, Mr. Primus Bon, member of a family that is well-known throughout Switzerland for the splendid line of hotels owned and managed by them. Mr. Bon expressed himself as being deeply interested in the work and has enrolled himself as a member of the Foreign contingent of the Hawaii Promotion Committee.
By the steamers sailing the middle of the month, we will send out some five thousand special circular letters to physicians and druggists throughout the Northwest, enclosing with each a copy of the last edition of our climatic folder and some other interesting matter.

It is such letters as the following to Mrs. Kerr of this city which encourage us to believe that this effort will bring results:

"VANCOUVER, May 19th.
"Dear Mrs. Kerr: I am sending you this little note just to let you know that we got home safely. Had really a delightful passage and our only regret was that we had not stayed longer in your lovely climate for we found it cold and bleak here and really have not had a good warm day since we arrived. Fires every day. Mr. Mills gained twenty-four pounds and I ten and several of the doctors here were so delighted they want to send people to Honolulu immediately who need rest and change. We hope to get back next winter."
The recent success of Mr. Bonine and other local photographers in securing good photographs of surf board riders at Waikiki is going to enable us to advertise this distinctly Hawaiian sport more effectively than we have been able to do heretofore.

Information came to hand by the last mail to the effect that the S. S. Sierra of the Oceanic line had been chartered and was being fitted up at an expense of about $15,000 for special excursion work during the time of the Seattle Exposition. Later on, a trip to Panama will be made with probable winter excursions to Hawaii. An effort may be made to work up an excursion from Honolulu to Seattle during the time of the Exposition. The matter is now being looked into.

Respectfully submitted,
H. P. WOOD, Secretary.
